

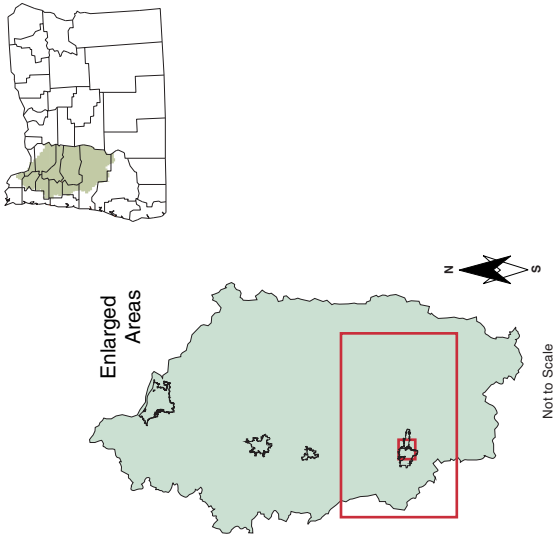

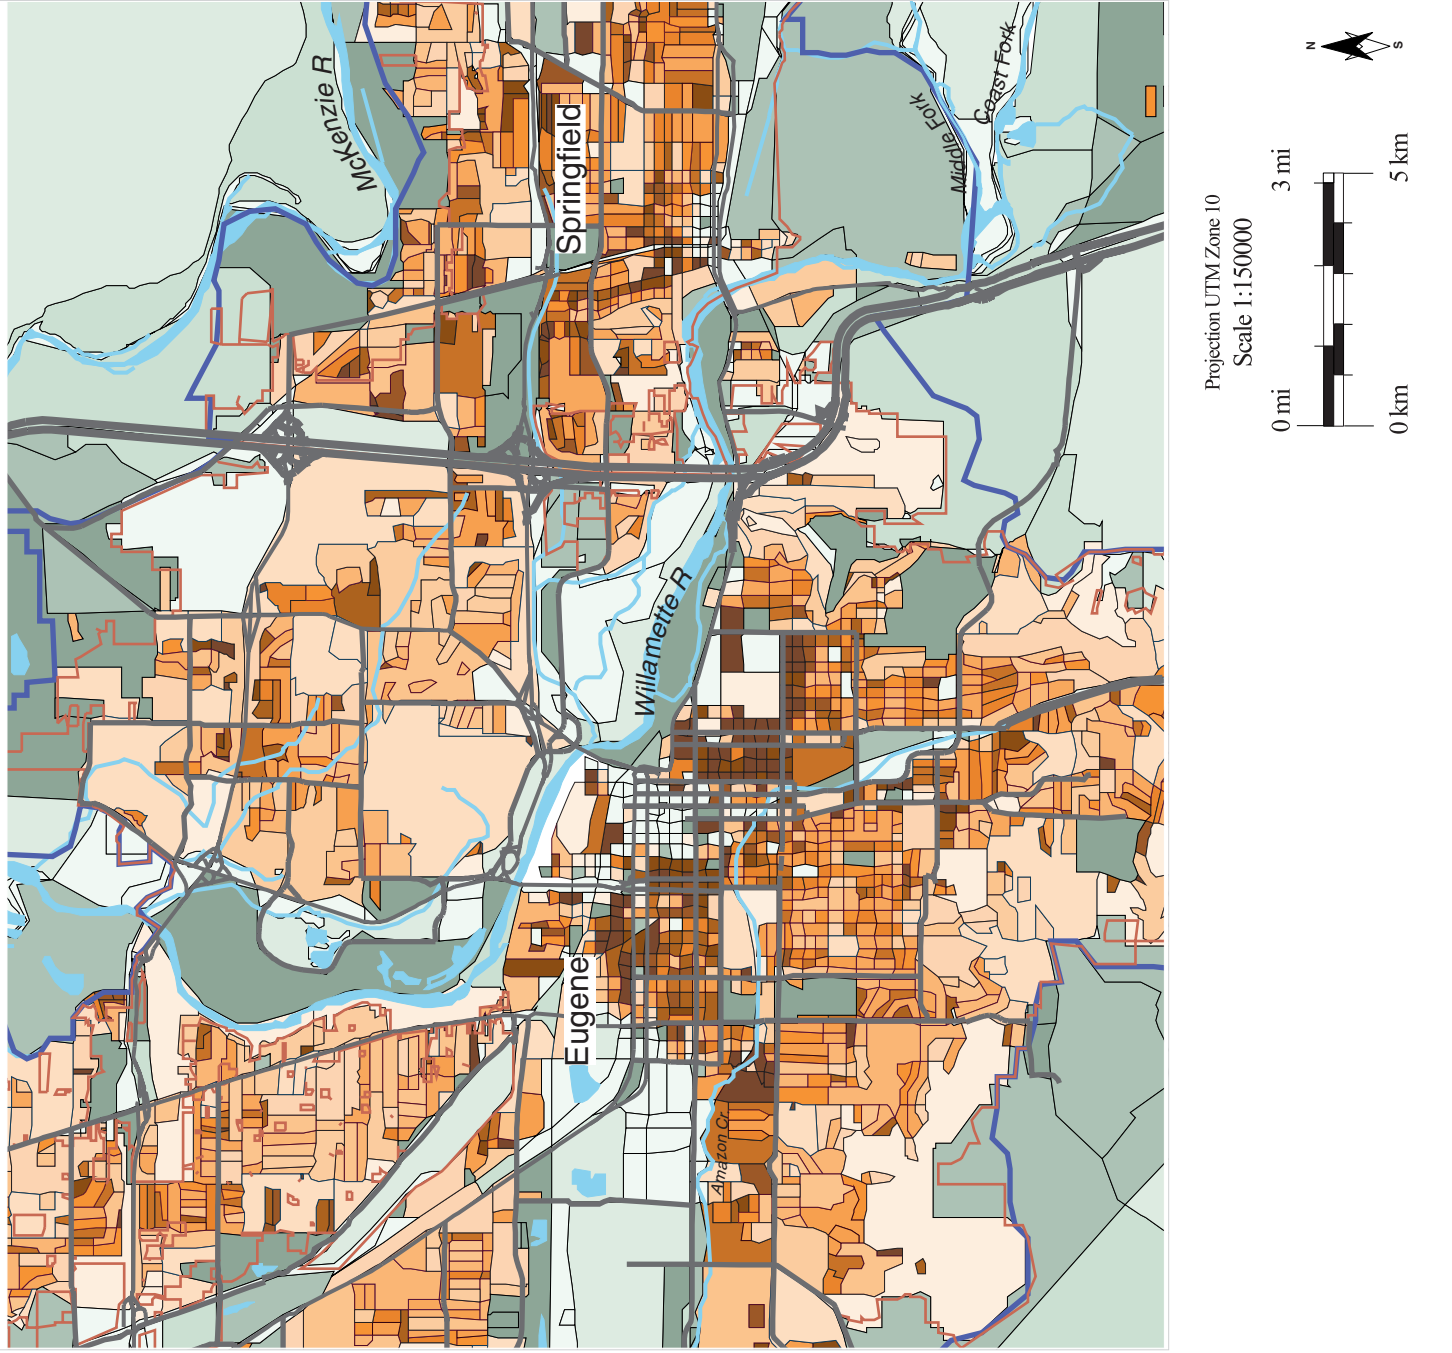

Figure 81. Population density in Eugene and Springfield. Eugene and Springfield exhibit contrasting patterns of population density. The most densely populated areas in Springfield are distributed throughout the city, whereas in Eugene density is concentrated near the downtown city center and the University of Oregon.

Map 14. 1990 Population Density in the Southern Willamette Valley

